Exterior:

Two-story clapboard classic revival structure was built ca. 1871. It has a raised foundation and giant-order tetrastyle pedimented portico with balcony. Columns are attenuated Tuscan. Windows are 4/4 double sash. Similar to houses of the Adam/Federal period in general proportions, additional details include swan's-neck brackets at the eaves, baroque woodwork in overwindow panels, and ornate pediment mouldings.

Interior:

The structure is square and consists of eight rooms: four downstairs, four upstairs. The stair rail is of walnut and the floors upstairs are original and of pine.

The present fabric is in excellent condition; the current owner, who acquired the property in 1961, has restored and maintained the structure in an appropriate manner. The grounds have been cleared and beautified, with special attention to existing old boxwoods.
